

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND THE ARTS

A Panel Discussion

Thursday, February 11, 2010

7 pm-9 pm, UWMC Theatre

How a group of people can envision, articulate and create not just an arts community, but a human community, where all people can live together and prosper through the power of the arts.

Panelists include:

Maryo Ewell, Activist on the Colorado Council on the Arts

Erik Takeshita, senior program officer, Minn./St Paul office of the Local Initiatives Support Corp.

Moderator:

Linda Ware, Emerita professor of English at UWMC and a local arts activist

This event is part of the Wisconsin Institute's "Building Community in America" series which seeks to help communities and individuals in Wisconsin address the recent decline in the social fabric of American community life. This series of events hopes to raise public awareness of the factors that undermine the sense of community in contemporary society.

WISCONSIN INSTITUTE FOR PUBLIC POLICY AND SERVICE

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

wisconsin|humanities|council community through conversation

Funded in part by a grant from the Wisconsin Humanities Council, with funds from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in this project do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities. The Wisconsin Humanities Council supports public programs that engage the people of Wisconsin in the exploration of human cultures, ideas and values.

